

Self-Guided Bicycle Tour Center City Philadelphia

Ride with care, all driving rules of the road apply to you on a bicycle; you can be ticketed.

Questions during your tour? Please call (215) 232-7778 or (805) 650-7770

Fairmount Water Works In the early 19th century, the water works was designed to provide fresh water to the growing city population, with inner workings masked by a classical exterior. Today it houses the Fairmount Water Works Interpretive Center, with

Philadelphia Museum of Art

interactive exhibits.

Established in 1876, the museum is one of the largest and most renowned in the country, hosting special exhibits, in addition to more than 200,000 items in its collection, including Rubens, Manet, Van Gogh, Renoir, Toulouse-Lautrec, Monet, Cezanne, Dali and Philadelphia

Schuylkill River Park

Rittenhouse Square Rittenhouse Square is named for astronomer, instrument maker and patriotic leader, David Rittenhouse,. Once the most fashionable residential section of the city, many mansions still line the streets facing the Square.

mechanical action pipe organ in the country, as well as the outdoor Mann Center.

Philadelphia City Hall Standing at nearly 600 feet tall, the City Hall building was the world's tallest inhabitable building until 1908 and is the largest municipal building in the country. At the highest point on the building's tower is a statue of Philadelphia's founder, William Penn, with an observation deck accessible to visitors.

Franklin Square Franklin Square, named for Founding Father Benjamin Franklin, is believed to be the site where Franklin conducted nis famous lightening storm kite flight, which is celebrated by a large Bolt of Lightning sculpture. A family friendly park, there are playgrounds, a carousel, and a miniature golf course.

Elfreth's Alley Elfreth's Alley is known as the nation's oldest residential street, dating back to 1702. Today 32 houses built between 1728 and 1836 line the alley, forming one of the last intact early American streetscapes in the nation.

Betsy Ross House This 18th century house was the birthplace of the American Flag, and today the Betsy Ross House is decorated in period furnishings and includes objects owned by Ross and her family.

Christ Church Burial Ground

Christ Church Burial Ground is one of America's most interesting Colonial and Revolution-era graveyards, and is the final resting place of Benjamin Franklin and four other signers of the Declaration of Independence.

US Mint

The Philadelphia Mint was the first US Mint built after the Constitution was ratified. Approximately one million coins can be minted in 30 minutes, while the original Mint took three years to produce as much. Tours of the various stages of minting can be taken.

Independence Mall State Park

National Constitution Center

Independence Visitor

The hub for the Independence Mall, at the Visitors Center you can get tickets to attractions. tours and maps, as well as shop the gift shop or grab a snack at the café.

The Liberty Bell

Congress Hall

Independence Hall

Penn's Landing

Named for Pennsylvania founder William Penn, Penn's Landing hosts summer concerts, and several historic ships. The World War II submarines USS Becuna and USS Olympia, and a Spanish-America War cruiser are docked at Penn's Landing as part of the museum. The sailing ship, Moshulu, featured in the films Rocky & The Godfather II, now serves as a restaurant.

Powel House

Home to Samuel Powel, the first mayor of Philadelphia after the creation of the United States, this house played host to George Washington, John Adams and the Marquis de Lafayette. Today the Powel House depicts the lives of the wealthy colonialists during the Revolution.

Washington Square Washington Square was named for President George

Washington, and is home to the Tomb of the Unknown Revolutionary War Soldier. honoring all soldiers and sailors of the Revolutionary War.

Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts

Founded in 1805, the Academy is the oldest art museum in the United States. It houses collections from the 19th and 20th century America.

JFK Plaza - LOVE Park Named for President John F. Kennedy, the park is known as Love Park thanks to Robert Indiana's iconic LOVE sculpture. The Fairmount Park Welcome Center and Love Gift Shop are located in the Plaza.

Cathedral Basilica of St. The second and an each Make by the Lega Peter & St. Paul

Logan Square Logan Square's history included public executions and burial plots until the early 19th century. The Swann Memorial Fountain uses large Native American figures to depict the areas major water sources; the Delaware, Schuylkill and Wissahickon.

The Franklin Institute

Established in 1824 and

named for Founding Father

Benjamin Franklin, the museum exhibits include Electricity, The Giant Heart, as well as displays of telescopes, space travel and the world's largest collection of holds more than 2,500 objects, primarily from impressionist and modern masters, including

Renoir, Rubens, Goya, Manet,

Cezanne, Matisse, Picasso,

Rousseau, Modigliani, and

Seurat, in addition to a 12-acre arboretum with over 3,000

species of plants and trees.

Rodin Museum

Featuring the world's second largest collection of

Auguste Rodin's works,

including the statue,

The Thinker.

The Barnes Foundation

The Barnes Foundation

Wright Brothers' artifacts.

Eakins Oval

Named for famed Philadelphia artist Thomas Eakins, it is home to the Washington Monument Fountain, created by Rudolf Siemering which features a statue of George Washington atop his horse facing down Benjamin Franklin Parkway toward Philadelphia City Hall

AD Rocky Steps & the Rocky

The 72 stone steps before the entrance of the Philadelphia Museum of Art have become known as the "Rocky Steps", from the Rocky movies, with a bronze statue of Rocky Balboa.

Fountain of Seahorses

ites and who one

Lemon Hill Mansion Bought in 1799 by Henry Pratt for $14,600, the 43 acres of land provides picturesque views from its bluff locale above Boathouse Row.

Schuylkill Bike Trail

Cather Pe comments@wheelfunrentals.com